From the Pastor's Desk

"Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God."

Philippians 4:6

Greetings of Grace and Peace!

Most of us do not like change, it is part of God's world and plan. As disciples, our understanding of God has changed through history. Through the Bible, we read that God revealed messages to only a few folks, then to more people as prophets, and now our understanding is that God communicates with all of us in a variety of different ways. The very way we live in this world changes each day. Even as we see that change is part of God and our understanding, we struggle with accepting change. Yet, just because we struggle with accepting change, it doesn't mean that God will stop allowing it to happen. Perhaps it is the gift from God to help us grow in our faith and rely on God more fully, as individuals, churches, nations, and collectively as humans.

Here at FCC, we will be experiencing change this upcoming Fall.

After eight (8) years, Marilyn has resigned her position in cleaning and caring for the church as custodian. The aches and pains in her shoulder, coupled with caring for her home and husband, are making continuing impossible. Laura Lillibridge has taken a full-time position in a nearby school district, which will prevent her from continuing to be in the role of Coordinator for our Children and Youth Faith Formation (CYFF). Mark Jacobson is resigning from his role as Music Director towards the end of September. We are grateful to Marilyn, Laura, and Mark for sharing their gifts with us to enrich our church in a variety of ways. We are sorry to see them resigning from their roles as we are happy, content, and sometimes even excited, with their fulfilling these positions.

We admit that we do not like change. Many times, it is because we become fearful of the “what ifs?” (You can fill in your own response to the what if?) It is so easy to live in fear. However, the Bible tells us not to worry but “seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well.” (Matt. 6:33) Read entirety of Matthew 6: 25-34. As for myself, and I hope many of you in the church, we will move forward looking and seeking God and what God holds for FCC?

God’s promise in Jeremiah 29: 11: For I know the plans I have for you,” declares the LORD, “plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future is a promise I hold dear in my heart and life. That scripture was the short devotion I chose as I meet with the leaders of FCC in the possibility of my becoming your pastor. I know in my heart that God has called me into ministry. A few years into my ministry at another church, I was descending into a “What if?” state. The Jeremiah verse popped into my mind, followed by the thought: I haven’t brought you this far for you to fail. So, I continue to seek and look with hope as to what and where God is working in my/our life.

Another verse I choose to focus on is Proverbs 3: 5-6: Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight.

We are saddened by so much change, so quickly. But let us move forward seeking and looking for what goodness God has planned for us. Let us walk forward in faith!

Pastor Pat

From the Deacons' Bench

Thessalonians 5:16-18: Rejoice always, pray continually, and give thanks in all circumstances...

Philippians 4:11: I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances. (Paul writing from prison)

Thankfulness and contentment are complicated states of being. They're easy for me to achieve when things are going well, (meaning I'm getting what I want) but when life gets hard, it's equally hard to have a spirit of gratitude. And I sure don't feel "content". Feeling grateful and "finding the silver lining" in all - all!- circumstances seems to run contrary to human nature. Paul is asking the impossible of me!

I recently came across this quotation from pastor and author, Patrick Henry Reardon:

"Suppose for a moment that God began taking from us the many things for which we have failed to give thanks. Which of our limbs and faculties would be left? Would I still have my hands and my mind? And what about loved ones? If God were to take from me all those persons and things for which I have not given thanks, who or what would be left of me?"

The more times I read it, the more I see a lifetime of blessings scrolling across my mind's eye; the scroll is unending as more blessings, small and large, are added every day. Have I even consciously taken stock of a tiny percentage of that unearned stream of gifts? Honestly, have my thanks even equaled my complaints?

I can't help but ask myself: Who am I to be so generously and unconditionally loved by God? To receive so much evidence of God's love? I doubt I'll ever reach the state Paul talks about, but the very least I can do is ask God's help to try.

Your sister in faith,
Linda Hornig

Children/Youth Faith Formation News:

Welcome back from Summer! We all hope you had a chance to share time with loved ones and enjoy the sunshine before we transition into the cool, brisk air of Autumn.

I would like to share a bit about my own transition as well. I am taking a full-time position with the Southwick school district and will need the extra time to make sure things go smoothly. As such, I will be resigning my position as Children/Youth Faith Formation Coordinator, but will still be involved in teaching Sunday School with other volunteers.

I highly recommend offering one of your Sundays to spend time with our thoughtful, beautiful, kind and bouncy children of our Beloved Congregation. They have gifted me with so much; including fresh insights, laughter, silliness and creativity!

We bless the children and their teachers and support staff as they all return to school! May their spirits be high, their attention acute and may their enthusiasm be kept alight! Bless them all with great friendships, joyful learning, fun, safety and great health! Amen!

What is Rally Day? Come find out on September 11!

For decades our church has held a Sunday School “Rally Day” in September, but how many of us understand what it means? In many Protestant churches, Rally Day marks the beginning of the church calendar year (not the liturgical year), and it’s for everyone, not just kids.

Sunday worship typically looks different in the summer: Bible Study and Sunday School are suspended for the summer months and attendance often drops off, as hot weather and our many activities draw us away from each other, especially on weekends. ! close of summer calls us back to the pattern of our “regular” spiritual lives; we’ll be more focused on intentional faith formation, in worship and Bible Study, and the kids will again be nurtured in Sunday School. We’ll all be reconnecting and catching up in Fellowship time. So many reasons to celebrate!

Webster defines “rally” as (1.) a verb: “to draw or call together for a common purpose”, and (2.) a noun: “a renewal of energy in joint action”, These definitions perfectly encompass the purpose of the one special Sunday set aside as “Rally Day”: we draw together to renew our spiritual energy for worship, for study, and for serving. We hope you’ll all come, regular congregants, friends we’ve not seen in a while, and new friends, on September 11 and share this morning of reconnection and renewal!

Music News

It is with sadness that I tell you that I am leaving Hampden Federated Community Church at the end of September. You all have been wonderful to work with and I have really enjoyed my time here. There is another church community, one that I have a 30 plus year relationship with, in the Anglican/Lutheran tradition which I have always loved. Their situation is complicated and I feel a strong pull to answer God's call to go there.

There are so many good things happening at HFCC. The bells can continue as they did before my arrival. The drumming circle can continue as long as you can remember "I like apple pie" or "I want to play my drum." HFCC is a warm and loving community. This was a hard decision to make, one that I really wrestled with. But it's the right decision for me, at this time and in this place in my life. Please understand. I will always hold you in my heart and in my prayers.

Yours in Christ,
Mark Jacobson

Hats, Mittens & Scarves Needed

As Fall comes, I am anticipating the need for hats, mittens, and scarves for homeless families. Men, Women, and children will need them. Some can also be donated to the Survival Center as well.

Please contact Bobby Schofield. Thank you!

They help local Active Duty Military, Veterans, and their families!

They really need canned vegetables, fruit, coffee, condiments, canned chicken, tuna, peanut butter, dry goods like pasta/side dishes, taco, chili, soup mixes or canned soups etc! They are also looking for Cat/Dog food- wet or dry, Pharmacy - Cold/Sinus Medicines, vitamins/supplements, Depends (bladder items) for both Men/Women, Diapers of any size for children, & all types of personal items! Also - small toy sets/books/puzzles for children!

Thanks! With a Grateful Heart

My heart is overflowing with gratitude for all who were willing to provide coverage for me (Pastor Pat) while I was on rest and renewal leave. I have heard many wonderful comments and so I know that the congregation was uplifted, inspired, and filled by all those who officiated at worship. In case you were unable to attend worship in person or online, I want to acknowledge publicly, by name, those who provided coverage.

Many thanks to Sandy Tilander for providing music in worship while Mark was vacationing.

Many Thanks to Jack Germain...

For the many ways you humbly serve God and the congregation. While folks in the church like to worship outdoors, it is primarily and faithfully Jack who sets up for worship each Sunday. He shares responsibility, along with Dave Kruger, for videoing the service Live on Facebook and then modifies the service to be contained to one hour every Sunday for cable television. For the many ways Jack quietly, yet faithfully serves, we give thanks.

Thank you to the Reno Team who has faithfully been focused on the Faith Formation within our church. Many hours have been spent in planning, learning, and writing necessary documents and procedures. They have planned and hosted the Summer Series and I am grateful for their dedication.

With gratitude, I thank Marilyn for her dedication to keeping our church building clean throughout the last eight (8) years. She pays close attention to what needs to be done and diligently makes sure it happens. She has faithfully carried out the details of her contract but has extended herself to the small details that have made the building so inviting. She brings a spirit of Christ with her, and it permeates through the space. Thank you for a job Well Done! Blessings and Prayers for healing of your shoulder and strength on your journey.

Connecting in the Spirit Scantic Summer Fun Series

As the end of summer approaches, we celebrate our first free Scantic Summer Fun Series! The Renovation Team and the Children/Youth Faith Formation Ministry Team collaborated throughout the Spring to shape this free community outreach program of events. Each gathering delivered a tasty cook-out dinner, time for connecting among friends, neighbors, and new friends who joined us for the first time, followed by great entertainment.

We drummed with Bob Bloom, shared fun storytelling with the puppets of Big Joe the Storyteller, and laughed as magician Mike Wald cracked jokes and amazed us with his sleight of hand.

Our shaded grounds beside the Scantic River provides a beautiful space to congregate and relax- a real blessing. We were also blessed with a team of 15 volunteers, including Pastor Pat, who shopped, set up, cooked, served, hosted and cleaned up. Our goal was simply to create fun opportunities for building connections between our church community and the wider community beyond our church.

Without the dedication of our volunteers this vision couldn't have been brought to life. We especially appreciate the culinary talents of Jack Germain and Matt Lillibridge, who flipped the burgers and rolled the dogs- we gratefully award you the Golden Spatula! Keep the charcoal dry- we're not done with fun and food!

“Connecting in the Spirit” Shirts

The long-awaited shirts are in the process of being printed. They should arrive in the church by the end of September. Due to COVID, the shipment of shirt stock was held up at customs. We are grateful they have been shipped for printing. Beth Algie is coordinator of this project. If you have questions, please speak with her.

Bible Study Resumes on September 21st

The six- week study will be held at the church on Wednesday mornings from 10:30 – noon. For those who like to gather and chit-chat, please feel free to come at 10:00 AM, put on a pot of coffee and relax until we start.

The Bible study will use Professor Amy-Jill (AJ) Levine’s newest study, “Signs and Wonders” on the miracles of Jesus.

Whether this will be your first study, or you have been studying the Bible for years,

I am sure you will learn something new.

AJ has been a Professor at Vanderbilt University for many years until her retirement in 2021, when she relocated to Connecticut. She continues to teach at Hartford Seminary. AJ has a great sense of humor and deep wealth of Jesus and the New Testament. I hope you will consider joining!

Women's Retreat

Kim Cummins is graciously inviting all women of the church to her home for a retreat on September 17th. Gathering time will be from 9 – 9:30 AM. and we will end at approximately 4:30 PM. Weather permitting (and bugginess too), we will be outdoors in her lovely yard. You are invited to bring a comfortable yard chair. Lunch will be a potluck of salads. (use your imagination). Please bring a water bottle/thermos to keep hydrated and a notebook. The retreat will be based on the theme of “Connecting with God.” Remember, God has a sense of humor, so do not worry, the day will be filled with laughter.

A Chicken Dinner with Invitation to Join and Play Games to Follow

Our dinners have three or more different benefits. First, it brings our church members together in community. As we sit around and share a meal and conversation, we find things out about other members. Sometimes we find commonalities, sometimes interesting facts, sometimes simply chit chat. It also brings those that work together in the kitchen together.

Our dinners offer an opportunity for outreach. We can invite neighbors, friends, relatives, or others to our gathering. This gives others a chance to meet our members and find out how we act (are we welcoming and inviting?). It is an opportunity for a stranger to join us and extend our connections.

Our dinners offer a good, scrumptious meal at an affordable price. So buy an extra ticket and invite a friend (or enemy: it might just save their life), or buy tickets so your spouse doesn't have to cook.

Our dinners don't leave you with dirty dishes and a dirty kitchen.

Stay and join in for some games (either one here or bring your own), share a laugh, and perhaps meet a new friend.

Stay tuned to Weekly E-News for the time of this event!

Save the Date- Important
Potluck Luncheon & Conversation following worship on October 2nd

Many of you were in worship (in person or on Facebook) on Sunday, August 21 when I spoke about Jesus healing the Bent over Woman (Luke 13:10-17). I spoke about how Jesus broke rules to correct issues and claim justice for the woman who was bent over.

Jesus couldn't wait one more day, one more hour, but now is the time when he would save his people (Luke 4: 19) and Behold, now is "the acceptable time," behold, now is "the day of salvation" (Romans 13:11) As followers of Jesus, we are called to stand up for justice issues, so that those bent over and pushed down can stand up in all areas of life.

To have the realm of Jesus' ways and love, we cannot wait, for this is the day! Nor can we be a silent witness! Jesus was the same in private and public, in comfortable settings and those places where others judged him and planned to crucify him.

I spoke about standing with those who are in same sex relationships. Many of you wonder why I brought it up now and why I spoke about it in reference to the United Methodist denomination. To answer, I bring up three points:

1. FCC is combined members of United Church of Christ (UCC), the United Methodist (UMC), and Community members. All three segments have the same basic Christian beliefs regarding God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. We have a common history. We use the same Bible (even though it is interpreted differently). But we have different ways of denominational structure and varying polity for UCC and UMC.

While the UCC does have Regional Conferences and they have suggestions and beliefs that each church might follow and provide procedures to best carry them forward, individual UCC churches are allowed to decide for themselves to take a stand on something or vote to implement a rule and/or procedure. The United Methodist Church's structure is very different. Each church is included in an area conference. The rules that we agree to follow are voted on yearly at the annual conference, which is made up of all clergy from that region/area and an equal number of disciples/members.

Bigger rules that affect all the UM churches in the world are decided up at a General Conference, which is held every four years. Members from each United Methodist Annual Conference across the world elect folks to represent them at the General Conference. They vote and decide what rules to follow and how they are to be implemented. The rules comprise the UM Book of Discipline.

The United Methodist have been arguing for over fifty (50) years whether to be Open and Affirming (UCC language) or Reconciling (UMC). Open and Affirming and Reconciling are different words basically working towards the same goal, where love overcomes judgement and where everyone, regardless, is included. Some of the debatable questions in the UMC are: Should UMC allow persons of LGBTQI to become ordained? Can a pastor marry a same sex couple? Can they use the church building to perform a same sex marriage? Should LGBTQI folks be allowed to join the church? Most votes to these questions have been exclusive at the UM General Conference. Since the higher UCC conferences promote inclusivity, it is up to the individual UCC churches to have those conversations or choose not to.

While community members and UCC individual churches can decide on their own about how they live out God's love to LGBTQI, the UM clergy and members must follow what is voted on by General Conference or by defiance as the New England Annual Conference has done.

2. Many UM churches in the United States want to be reconciling and inclusive of all. However, The UMC is a global denomination. They have member churches in Africa and Asia, where being in a same sex marriage is against the law. Their voices (and votes) along side more conservative churches in the United States and other areas are opposed to reconciling. They still say that it is incompatible with our Christian teachings. Due to COVID, the General Conference, which meets every four years was cancelled in 2020. They will not meet as a body to change any rules until 2024, eight years or double the normal time since the last GC. Eight years is a long time.

Because of the delay and inability to conclude and resolve the decision of reconciling or not, which was already coming to a breaking point between the two positions in the UMC at the prior General Conference, The New England UMC, along with other Annual Conferences throughout The United States, decided they couldn't wait any longer. This previous June (2022) at the Annual Conference, the New England UMC voted to ignore the voice and votes of the General Conference which prohibits marriage ceremonies in the UM churches and punishes Pastors for participating in a same sex ceremony, along with many hurtful statements which are included in our Book of Discipline (the rule book past by the General Conference). They, like Jesus in Luke 13, decided they cannot wait one more day to stand up for justice and move forward truly acknowledging that all are welcome: and that means ALL!

3. Many are asking why am I talking about this now? In the delay of the General Conference as stated above, more conservative members/churches have formed a new church: The Global Methodist Church. They are leaving the denomination of UMC and forming their own body and rules. We talk about it in our church because we have members who are United Methodist. We are connected and concerned for and with each other. The UM members need to share how they feel, where they stand, and what they are going to do. Do they stay part of the UM denomination, or do they want to switch to the Global Church? Not only individuals are leaving, but entire congregations. How the United Methodist members of FCC vote will impact the body of our church. UM members are forced to decide on this important issue, but we invite all our church body to come along. It is an important decision in our time.

I am extremely proud of FCC for living out a faith that does include others. Many of you have said that you have always been a welcoming church. That is true, regarding the people who walk through the doors. We have folks living, worshipping, and praying with us in that realm. It is a safe place for them to enter and not be told they are sinners (something I, personally, would not preach or live out). However, we now live in a world where many churches have been a loud voice in condemning LGBTQI. It is time we take an official stand. If we are to be welcoming, then we need to let our neighbors and community know that they are truly welcome here and will not be condemned for who they are and how they live that out. If the vote is to be exclusive, then the church needs to claim that. If the UM members decide to leave and join the Global Church, discussion needs to follow as to how their decision will impact the other church members: both UCC and community. This is the day! I hope you will think about how you feel, what questions you might have, and how Jesus would act if he were present with us, before the meeting time arrives. Be prepared to speak calmly and clearly in sharing your thoughts, feelings, questions, and more. Bring your listening ears that we might understand each other or even to understand one another's questions. This is an important issue of our time and for our church. We need your presence to know how and where everyone understands the issue and how we will move forward.

Will You Lend a Hand?

Phyllis Watson would like to attend worship, but no longer drives. She is living at Orchard Valley in Wilbraham. If you would be able and willing to pick her up once a month, please speak with Pastor Pat. Arrangements need to be made with her daughter, Heather

She would love visits anytime.
